Midget (Full Size) Midget race cars were introduced in the USA in the 1930s and raced on short 1/5 mile (0.32 km) dirt tracks. They were the original home-built race cars and their garage builders made use of every available automotive (and sometimes non-automotive) part they could use. Some cars were even powered by outboard boat motors.

Completed in 1960, the Midget was raced through 1966, with its home track being the Florida City Speedway 1/5 mile oval. The car also competed at a variety of ¼ mile tracks, and held various lap records at these venues. Payne's midget would reportedly run in excess of 130mph. Payne eventually sold the car and it passed through several hands.
