journey south taken by a young boy and his father after an unnamed catastrophe has struck the world. The man and the boy, who also remain unnamed throughout the entire novel, travel through the rough terrain of the southeastern United States. The conditions they face are unforgiving: rotted corpses, landscapes devastated by fire, abandoned towns and houses.

~~The Road Introduction | Shmoop~~
Fairly early in The Road Cormac McCarthy reveals the man's wife committed suicide before the events of the novel. She speaks of their predicament not as survival but as a kind of death within life. To her there is no hope left. The best ending she can imagine is a death less horrific than one involving rape and torture.
